

Fowler

Special Dial Caliper Gages

When a standard caliper fails to access your required dimensions, Fowler/Bowers will supply special dial calipers to suit unusual measurement problems.

- Many applications require a specific method or contact point or unusual design of leg in order to access the dimension to be measured. Over the years Fowler/Bowers have compiled a vast array of special application calipers with extended measuring ranges, odd shaped legs or special contact anvils.
- With the assistance of component drawings, our technical staff will suggest a unique caliper for your application.
- Specialty calipers are available with a variety of dial gage sensitivities and contact point shapes.
